Customized solutions available

The MODIX Automation and Handling Program.

Having visited many different plants over the years, the MODIX team looked at different ways to protect molded parts. From these visits, we have identified three options, which we have implemented in the market for our clients.

1. Handling and picker system from above.
2. Robotic system from below.
3. Pusher conveyor system under the press.

As we further examine our client's needs, we realized a need to provide a reliable, lightweight, and easy to handle conveyor that protects your molded parts. As a result, the ModiSoft conveyor system was developed, with your needs in mind. Our conveyors fit all standard presses and are the most affordable of the three options mentioned.

We have taken a proven system that has been on the market for many years and reengineered it with reliable technology, using lightweight materials for better handling. So, no matter what your shape molding press of choice is the ModiSoft conveyor system is the best solution to help protect your parts.
